THANKS Catie-Lou!

There probably isn't a member who doesn't know our Membership Support person Catie-Lou. She was appointed interim Co-ordinator when Keith went overseas in June last year and when he returned was appointed to the newly created position.

With careful financial management we have been able to pay both Keith and Catie-Lou until the end of September. Catie-Lou has offered to continue in this role unpaid and we are grateful for this but mindful that we must not take her for granted nor take advantage of her.

Catie-Lou has achieved much in the last 15 months including a major membership boost. There are plenty of other roles for volunteers to help share the work. Contact our WAIS office.

OCTOBER MARKET

Saturday 22nd 9.30am - 12.30

St James, High Street, Masterton

Mark it on your calendar. Bring your re-cycle bags and come and do some shopping at the market. Spend/earn some green dollars, trade in your WAIS vouchers and catch up with your local stall-holders and fellow WAIS traders.

Organic fruit, vegetables and eggs are available at markets as well as herbs, spices, cereals, grains and many other pantry items including tasty full-flavoured jams, relishes and other spreads. Last market we had 22 stallholders inside and outside the Carterton venue. This High Street location is perfect for lots of stallholders and being a high visibility and heavy traffic area a great venue for attracting the passing public. New hot and cold food temptations as well as our regular hamburgers, American hotdogs, sausages & fair-trade filtered coffee.

Lots of gift ideas for those starting to gather presents (or just to be good to yourself) including products such as natural massage oils & lotions, toiletries, lavender bath-bombs. Too much choice to mention it all here. Dirty Fingers Pottery will be having a sales table at markets Oct-Nov-Dec so it's a good time to view and buy your own piece(s) of Samuel Ludden original sculptures and pottery. Home-made cakes and baking, new books, plants, jewellery, pre-loved bargains and much, much more.

Never too early to book your stall or if you can't be there, but know you have the goods available, let us know now so we can organize for the drop off point for closer to the time. If you have WAIS credits sitting in-active in your account this is a good time to spend some and tell us what you'd like to be able to spend W$ on. If your account needs a boost of credits this is a great time to be a stall-holder and enjoy the social gathering in the process.

Ring the office 377 0717 or email letstrade@wais.net.nz or Skype us our Skype name is "letstradewais" or leave a message on the WAIS facebook, to book a stall.

New Community Centre Closer

It's common knowledge that at the end of this year the Wairarapa Community Centre is shifting from its Dixon Street home in Masterton across town to a new site at 41, Perry Street. Green Dollars has just been offered the opportunity to lease one of the offices right next to the main entrance to the building - an offer that your Committee will be looking at over the next couple of weeks. If we decide to move to this new site we'll be able to collaborate with a range of community based groups and become part of a social hub for Masterton and beyond.

Market Venues Sought

As well as a new site for our Office HQ we're also looking at new sites for our Markets. With over 20 stall holders in Carterton last month the venues we use are progressively being stretched. At the end of this year on 17 December we're going to experiment with a Market in the new Events Centre in Carterton and we've already booked our favourite home in Greytown four or five times for 2011. We're still looking for spots throughout the Wairarapa which will give us enough space in a prominent position to host more Markets next year - so if you've any good ideas please contact the Office and pass on your thoughts.

WAIS Office now on Skype

Skype has rapidly become a popular and affordable mode of communication and we have just adopted it as another way of contacting our office. Our Skype name is "letstradewais" and some of you may have already received invitations from us. Although Skype is great for cheap phone calls and video chat we only plan to use the IM or instant messaging feature. This is not just because we don't have a camera or microphone but IM has other advantages. With Skype, messages can be sent and delivered to contacts that are off-line. They get the message next time they are on-line. Whole conversations can be saved and group conversations could be very useful. So if you have or use Skype please add us to your contacts.

Fleeing Vesuvius NZ Edition

available from the LIVING ECONOMIES online shop

"Some are in denial, others are in despair, then there are those who seek to meet the future in the drivers seat – those people will be reading this book" Laurence Boomert, Co-Publisher and one of the 39 essay writers in Fleeing Vesuvius.

Fleeing Vesuvius confronts our multiple crises, analysing the many aspects: the financial crisis; the collapse of the housing bubble; the urgent need for food security; the enormous challenge of dealing with climate change, and the looming scarcity of essential resources such as fossil fuels – the lifeblood of the world economy.

Fleeing Vesuvius puts forward solutions that involve changes to our economy and financial system, but they go much further: this substantial, wide-ranging book also looks at the changes needed in how we think, how we use the land and how we relate to others, particularly those where we live.

Fleeing Vesuvius was originally published in late 2010 by Feasta in response to Ireland's economic collapse. Its 27 authors including Dmitry Orlov and Richard Douthwaite are now joined by 12 New Zealand contributors, making this book a compelling tool for all thinking New Zealanders concerned about the future.

"Fleeing Vesuvius NZ Edition is unusual, critically important and refreshingly provocative." Jonathan Boston, School of Government, Victoria University of Wellington.
